

VSBA Pre-Convention Workshops

Wednesday, November 15, 9:30 - Noon

These workshops, for an additional fee of $100, offer the opportunity to study one topic of interest in greater detail. Each workshop is a non-repeating, 2 and one-half hour session.

Control the Rising Costs of Special Education!

This two part presentation will first examine the rising number of special education litigation cases related to work injuries such as those resulting from aides assisting students. The second segment will share how good risk management practices can prevent such lawsuits. (Staff can register to attend with a board member/superintendent.) Presenters: Kathleen Mehfoud, Reed Smith & David Brooks, Loss Control Consultant.

What's Happened to Gifted Education Under NCLB?

Dr. Elissa Brown, Professor at William & Mary in the Center of Gifted Education, will present an in-depth, hands-on, interactive session on how schools can continue to offer a quality program for gifted learners despite the pressures from NCLB.

THANK YOU
