Grimm + Parker Architects Wins “People’s Choice Award” for Louisa County High School Design

November 18, 2016 – Grimm + Parker Architects’ work on Louisa County High School won the firm the “People’s Choice Award” at the 2016 Virginia School Boards Association’s Exhibition of School Architecture, which took place at the association’s Annual Convention.

The Annual Convention brought 1,000 school board members, superintendents, division administrators, education officials, and others together from November 16-18 in Williamsburg, VA. Attendees had the opportunity to vote for their favorite of thirteen design projects that were on display throughout the convention.

M.B. Kahn Construction Co., Inc. sponsored the VSBA Exhibition of School Architecture.

About the Virginia School Boards Association
